Dear Charlie,

In haste for the next month I'll be in an effort to unstack a month's mail. You'll see in about fifteen minutes

The trip lasted a month! I got to Dallas and have established meaningful relations with what has been called "the other side". They were very kind to me, are and will be. I divided my time between blowing minds and turning 'em on, with some success. It was very gratifying. Also did effective radio and TV there.

New Orleans was a ball. I even got some of the Oswald footage. The federal government seems to have intercepted a copy of it, although it was sent certified. However, I kept a second copy of the person. Got new witnesses and new evidence there.

Located and taped Mr. Machann, interviewed such people as Dr. Perry and Jesse Curry!

*In leaving I tried not to awaken you, whatever you people had I got (or perhaps someone else's). It didn't slow me down but it sure wore me out. Will get it.

Do not apologize for the accommodations. - Live simply, I was comfortable, and most important of all, I felt at home, not unwelcome, and that I was with a friend. I hope there is a next time, soon, and that you are then feeling better.

Still concerned on the ms. I hope you have gotten it. If you haven't, will you please go and take it away from him. He has become entirely irresponsible and undependable. With the high opinion of him with which I began, this is a great disappointment.

Will you please tell Jamie that I note with pride how much smaller she is getting, that in <sup>her</sup> pretty note there was not a single mistake, which is really good for one as young as she is, and most of all that I am so pleased she is becoming a big girl and is sleeping by herself. That's real progress, and in such a short time. It is wonderful.

My best to you all, my thanks for your kindnesses and sacrifices,

Sincerely,

Harold Weistberg
